Att : Hon. Ralph Goodale
Minister of Public Safety
269 Laurier Avenue West
Ottawa, Ontario
Canada, K1A-0P8

Mr. Minister

A letter dated February 4, 2019 was sent to you, as well as another one dated February 5, 2019, copies of which were again forwarded to you in attach to my register letter to your attention dated May 21, 2019 to insure you would get them.

This being said, under the law, you do have a duty to reply to the content of my letters to your attention. What seemed to be a refusal from your part to answer my last three letters doesn't come as a surprise, since this would mean to admit the unfortunate truth; namely that RCMP members have lied about the circumstances surrounding the death of RCMP Cpl. Derek Flanagan.

I may understand your malaise at answering the questions raised through the content of my last letters. That includes, as found at page 2 of my registered letter to your attention dated May 21, 2019, seven questions that I have asked you to clear up with regard to your ministerial directive of September 25, 2017. However, to see that no one ever cared acknowledging receipt of my letters can't be justified considering the issues brought to your attention.

If I haven't received a satisfactory replied from you within the next fifteen days, it'll be considered before the law as an admission from your part that RCMP members have indeed lied about the circumstances surrounding the death of RCMP Derek Flanagan, the evening of February 19, 1989, in Chiang Mai, Thailand, as revealed through the content of the 163 page analysis of these events sent to your office in the past, titled: Analysis of RCMP Derek Flanagan's death.

Moreover, your refusal to provide me with a satisfactory answer, despite knowing the aforementioned fact, will be interpreted before the law as an admission from your part that you and your office have decided to take an active part in the covering up of the truth with regard to RCMP Derek Flanagan's death, rather than instituting a public inquiry under section 24.1 of the RCMP Act to sort out the truth, as I've requested on numerous occasions over the years.

After claiming your desire for more transparency and accountability through your last electoral platform and through your ministerial directive, as many other Canadian taxpayers, I am waiting for you and the liberal party to deliver on such promise.

Considering what's happened to the Hon. Judy-Wilson Raybould due to her honesty and integrity, not to mention the damning report that followed from the Ethic Commissioner, Mario Dion, I dare hoping that you and the liberal party will make it a priority to act in the present case to sort out the truth, since this story won't die regardless of the results with the upcoming federal elections. If you wish to have your name associated to lies and cover up, it'll remain your decision in the end, Mr. Minister.

Looking forward to the pleasure of a reply from your part, I remain.

Sincerely, yours

Alain Olivier

N.B. : Last, in my last letter, by mistake, I informed you that the story based on my treatment at the hands of the RCMP would be presented in Toronto in September, but it was decided to have the world premiere of the movie down in the US next January, to reach a greater audience.
